INTERVENTION MAY COME

The latest phase in the Benton case shows a serious state of affairs. The American and British representatives have been refused permission by General Carranza to view the remains of William S. Benton, the British subject killed by the rebels. General Carranza, head of the present revolution, now takes the stand that any information regarding the death of Benton should come from him instead of from General Villa, and that the matter should come to him through the diplomatic agents of Great Britain and not through the United States government.

It looks like Carranza is creating more delay in the matter for the purpose of helping Villa, who declared Benton was shot by order of court martial, and was not killed by him. Further delay will make it almost impossible to determine how Benton was shot, the body not being embalmed, and probably in advanced stage of decomposition.

On the other hand, Carranza may be playing a game to get the United States to recognize him, which is hardly possible under any circumstance.

President Wilson states in an interview that he fully realized the gravity of the killing of Benton; the reported murder of Gustav Bauch and Clemente Vazquez, American citizens. He spoke deplorably of armed intervention and is determined to try every peaceful means at his disposal to solve the Mexican problem.

It may happen, though, that the necessity for intervention will come suddenly, and if it does the government will move decisively and effectively.

BOYS' CORN CLUB

Here is a proposition that should appeal to the boys of the Gila Valley. Now would be the time to organize boys' corn clubs in different sections of the valley for a contest. If the boys will get to work at once there is no doubt but that suitable prizes will be awarded the boys who raise the best crops of corn.

The following article given out by the Arizona Agricultural Experiment Station will give the boys a good idea of the reasons why corn is chosen as a contest crop:

"Rev. Trevor Orton, of Hereford, and A. L. Paschall, of San Simon, are about to organize boys' corn clubs in their respective sections.

"Several people have inquired why corn has been chosen as the crop for this contest. First, it is a native plant that can be grown practically everywhere in Arizona. Second, the methods of improving corn are well understood and easy to practice. Third, it has been adopted as the standard crop for boys' clubs all over the United States, thus putting the boys of one state in competition with the boys of the other. For further information address, Prof. S. F. Morse, Tucson, Arizona."

The Town Council has ordered twenty 200 candle power lights from the Gila Valley Electric, Gas and Water Company for the streets of Safford.

The voters of Safford School district decided at the election Saturday that the Beebe property was the best site for the high school.

The Town Council made a good selection in Hy Bingham for street commission. Hy is a good man for the position.

BIG TALK

Between 1861 and 1865 there were thousands of politicians and editors in the North who were sure that they could put down the rebellion better than Abraham Lincoln was doing it.

There are thousands of them today who are sure that they could deal with the Mexican situation better than Woodrow Wilson is doing it.

In times of great public stress or of delicate foreign complications, the man who knows all about it is the man who is not charged with personal responsibility for the action of the Government.

Any fool clothed with the powers of the President could plunge the United States into a war with Mexico. There is nothing easier in government than shedding somebody else's blood. There is nothing cheaper than assailing a President for being a statesman instead of swashbuckler. —N. Y. World.

A plan whereby the United States, Great Britain and France will patrol the Atlantic ocean with scout cruisers carrying supplies of gas, oil and equipment, is being developed in connection with the Panama-Pacific International Round-the-World Aviation Contest. The cruisers will convey the racers across the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, the United States patrolling and marking the course from Belle Island to Cape Fairweather; France, from Cape Fairweather to Reykjavik, Iceland, and Great Britain from Iceland to the Hebrides. Each aeroplane will carry one passenger, and will be permitted to land on the cruiser, or, in the case of hydro-aeroplanes upon the water near the vessels to take on supplies when necessary.

The business section of the town was brilliantly lighted Friday night by a number of incandescent lamps which were strung across Tenth street, opposite both banks. The lights have been continued this week by the company.

TIMBER FOR SETTLERS

Within recent years, many settlers have come into the San Simon, Animas and Sulphur Springs and other valleys in southern Arizona and New Mexico. To improve their homesteads, a large amount of fuel wood and posts is required. Such material is given to the settlers under free use permits from the neighboring mountains which are within the Chiricahua and Coronado National Forests.

The Forest Service reports that during the past year over 1,500 cords of wood and 30,000 posts were used by these settlers. While small sales of cordwood for mining purposes are also made in these mountains, the needs of the settlers are not lost sight of, since the most accessible timber in the mountains is reserved for the use of the homesteaders who are already on the ground as well as for those to come. Although the most accessible post material is being rapidly used, there is a great deal of timber left in the higher mountains and it is estimated that at the present rate of consumption, the forests of southern Arizona will be able to supply the demand indefinitely.

TOO MUCH

In the old days of hand composition, a printer known from New York to San Francisco as "Pilgrim" Hazlett, wandered into a Pennsylvania town and asked the editor of the weekly for a "sit." "Well," said the editor, "I can put you to work, but I'm afraid I can't pay much money." "Make me an offer," said the Pilgrim. "All right. I can give you two meals a day at my house, you can sleep here in the office on this lounge, and I'll take care of your laundry. Then if you need tobacco get it across the street at the grocery. They run an account with us. And up at the brewery you can get a can of beer whenever you like. Besides, I'll pay you four dollars a week. Is that satisfactory?" "Gosh," said the Pilgrim, after repeating the offer to get it straight in his mind, "if I get all that what do I want with the four dollars?"

Chronic Stomach Trouble Cured
There is nothing more discouraging than a chronic disorder of the stomach. Is it not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle? "About one year ago," says P. H. Beck, of Wakelee, Mich., "I bought a package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using them I have felt perfectly well. I had previously used any number of different medicines, but none of them were of any lasting benefit." For sale by Safford Drug Co. adv-3-4t

SPRAY YOUR FRUIT TREES

Opportunity to Buy Spray Outfits at Special Price

The State entomologist has given considerable attention to determining the style of spray pump best suited to the needs of the small fruit orchards and has arranged for an especially favorable price on the pump selected.

Barrel pumps are worse than useless for codling moth spraying and only those hand pumps can be recommended which provide at least 150 pounds pressure, when using a nozzle of suitable discharge capacity, and without too hard work on the part of the operator. Such a pump can be had, under the arrangements mentioned above, for $29.00, f. o. b. at any railroad station in Arizona. Extra nozzles and connections will cost about $3.00. This is practically the wholesale price and the opportunity should be taken advantage of immediately.

Apple and pear growers, whose orchards are infested with the codling moth, should write to the State entomologist, Phoenix, Arizona, for specifications needed in placing orders.

The Forty Year Test

An article must have exceptional merit to survive for a period of forty years. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was first offered to the public in 1872. From a small beginning it has grown in favor and popularity until it has attained a world wide reputation. You will find nothing better for a cough or cold. Try it and you will understand why it is a favorite after a period of more than forty years. It not only gives relief—it cures. For sale by Safford Drug Co. adv 3-4t

THE OLD MEN

The old men beat the youngsters, And they are some surprise; The old men with the laughter Of the young dreams in their eyes. The old men sing the gladdest, The old men dance the maddest, The old men dream the strongest, Because they're swimming with the tide As young as all the youngsters.

The old men win my heart each time, And how I love to praise them; They season songs of life with rhyme, And troubles never fease them. The old men trust the longest, The old men dream the strongest, The old men live in dreams, indeed, But, ah, what tender cause and need, And it's hats off to the youngsters!

The old men love the sweetest, And they can tell it best; The old men with undying dreams That lead to lovely rest. The old men whistle sweetest, The old men waltz the neatest, The old men headed for the stars, With heart's love to their avatars, The blithe, brave, smiling youngsters! —Baltimore Sun.

PERPLEXED

When little Doris climbed up to her father's knee it was quite obvious that some deep problem was troubling her mind. Presently she unburdened herself of the momentous question.

"Papa," she asked, "was it a very wise person who said: 'The good die young?'"

"Yes," replied the father, "I suppose he must have been very, very wise."

"Well," said the child, after meditating for some time on the import of his answer, "I am not really so much surprised about you, but—mummy—no, I don't see how mummy managed to get growed up!"

Manufacturers of greenhouses and makers of boxes are getting in touch so that the latter may use for box cleats the cypress waste from the greenhouses.

ARIZONA COTTON

Hayden Suggests that Government Should Have It Thoroughly Tested

The following letter was written by Congressman Carl Hayden to the Secretary of War, in relation to having tests made by government contractors for cotton goods made from Arizona Egyptian cotton:

THE HONORABLE
THE SECRETARY OF WAR,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Sir:—My attention has been called to the fact that certain articles, for which the War Department contracts, require the use of exceptionally strong cotton in order to produce strong and durable fabrics. I understand that this is particularly the case in regard to the service tents used by the army.

In this connection, I wish to state that a variety of Egyptian cotton is now being grown in the Salt River valley, Arizona, which produces markedly uniform fiber, 1½ inches long and possessing very great strength. Of this variety, which was developed and introduced into cultivation by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, some 2,000 bales were grown last summer. This cotton has been examined and tested by many spinners of fine cotton and the opinion has been unanimous that it equals or excels in staple, strength and quality the best fiber which is imported from Egypt for use in the manufacture of fine cotton and fabrics which must possess great strength and wearing quality. Manufacturers of automobile tire fabrics have been warm in their praise of this cotton. Several hundred bales of this cotton produced in 1912 were purchased by the American Thread Company and this firm has also been a heavy purchaser of last year's crop. For the manufacture of the strongest and best grades of sewing thread they have found it fully equal to the best cotton which they import from Egypt.

It should be noted that this Arizona cotton is a special type, grown nowhere else in the United States and not competing with any other American cotton. It can, however, be advantageously substituted for the cotton grown in Egypt, of which American spinners import every year some 180,000 bales for use in manufacturing certain classes of goods.

Since the exceptional strength and fine quality of this cotton have been fully demonstrated, I would suggest that your Department should take steps to have it thoroughly tested by manufacturers who have government contracts for cotton goods in which strength and durability are especially requisite. I am sure that the officials of the Department of Agriculture will be glad to render you every assistance in preparing the specifications for cotton goods used by your department. This new product promises to be very important in the agricultural development of my State, and I shall highly appreciate any consideration that you may be able to give to this possibility of utilizing our Arizona Egyptian cotton.

Yours very respectfully,
CARL HAYDEN,
Member of Congress, Arizona.
